ZEROZAKI VOI APPENDIX MATERIAL
HUMAN EXAM
PAST EXAM COLLECTION
OVERSEEN BY: NISHIO ISHIN (ORIGINAL WORK'S AUTHOR)

1. ZEROSAKI SOUSHIKI'S HUMAN EXAM

Originally there was a light novel called "The Kulukiri Romanticist" with the sub title 'Human Disqualification Zerozaki Hitoshiki' In short he debuted as a side character to the protagonists in that light novel as well the human disqualified cutthroat murderer "Zerozaki Hitoshiki' Then to feature and spotlight the mysterious group "The Zerozaki Family" whose name had only briefly surfaced as information related to "Zerozaki Hitoshiki" with really no explanation at all I started the 'Human Series" as a separate independent series with "Zerozaki s Soushiki s Human Exam" As of 2011 the series has already finished
The Human Series in particular the "Human Exam" was written as a manga like even serialized manga like light novel, so I'm very deeply moved to have this work come-alized like this now

2. ZEROSAKI SOUSHIKI

The original story's protagonist. A cutthroat murderer
Big brother
Eldest brother of the Zerozaki Family
When the title "Zerozaki Soushiki s Human Exam ' was first announced the first name ended up being read 'Futashiki' not "Soushiki" I'm sure they inferred that from the kanji "双" and also thought that he was the younger twin (双子) brother of 'Zerozaki Hitoshiki" whose name was already well known from the other series
He's good at cossack dancing. I remembered just now that he has that character trait
With regards to the original work he's often referred to using words like "wireframe" and such however "pervert" generally covers most of that.

3. MUTOH IORI

The original story's heroine? The little sister heroine?
You could also say she s yet another protagonist perhaps
I coined her family name Mutoh, deriving it from the expression "with no end" A girl who runs and runs with no end in sight something like that You could also take this as "with no kills" which falls more in line with a cutthroat murderer "Zerozaki" //切りがない and 斬りがない respectively
Not on good terms with her older brother gets along with her older sister
Compared to Iori san in the original light novel who became the way she did conclusively
I can't really say how things will pan out developmentally for her in the manga version

4. MUTOH KENGO
5. MUTOH HATSUBAME

Iori Mutoh's older brother and sister
While they didn t particularly have many lines in the original short novel and while they were killed off for no particular reason by Naguma-san. this time in the manga version they unexpectedly made their visual entrance
For the time being, I'll introduce the older sister's name here

6. SAWARABI NAGUMA

The second son and third sibling of the "Sawarabi" a branch family of the Niounomiya acrobat troupe
A human by profession A moody person by nature An emotionally unstable halberd user
Because Soushiki made a pair of scissors his weapon, he thinks all enemies normally use such representative weapons He does have an older brother and younger sister but I'll lump the specific details about all of them together in a future "Past Exam Collection"
In any case. I'm looking forward to what kind of route the Sawarabi siblings will follow in the manga version.

7. TSUGE JION

Ion's classmate. He lived just a bit longer in the original short novel. Also, he passed the exam as well.
But as far as his character is concerned, the manga version is definitely more likeable.

8. ZEROZAKI FAMILY

A cutthroat murderer family.
A "family" that was formed by cutthroat murderers.
One big happy family connected not by blood, but bloodshed.
From an literary standpoint, it's a community that's 100% what'd you'd expect from its name.
If one were to ask "What's the first thing that comes to mind when you think of the Zerozaki Family?",
I would say without a doubt it's that dreadful fact.

9. NIOUNOMIYA

Caption: A branch family of the 'Niounomiya' hitmen, is it?

10. TOKINOMIYA

There's not much mentioned about this community up through chapter 3, but this is the kind of world where weird people like the "Zerozaki", "Sawarabi", "Niounmiya", or "Tokinomiya" run rampant, you could say.
Scary, isn't it.

Caption: Also Tokinomiya-san, this is a good opportunity, so could I have you help me in my production as well?

11. CUTTHROAT MURDERER

A demon who kills people.
Nothing more, nothing less.

12. SUICIDAL TENDENCIES

[Mainlaender/Mind Rendell]
The deadly weapon that Zerozaki Soushiki wields. It's also the origin of his nickname.
It's an item made by a famous weapon craftsman.
That person probably made it with care. Among the light novels the original work's author produces, there are many times he debuts stationery as weapons, including staplers and such. I mean, being an author is deskwork after all, so the things on your desk tend to catch your eye.
Let's use stationery properly.
In an unnatural way, that is.

13. THE HUMAN EXAM

The judgement on people that the cutthroat murderer Zerozaki Soushiki carries out.
It's carried out without question. Even though it's a test.
